DETAILED ACTION

1. In view of the appeal brief filed on January 20, 2004, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

- (1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,
- (2) request reinstatement of the appeal.

If reinstatement of the appeal is requested, such request must be accompanied by a supplemental appeal brief, but no new amendments, affidavits (37 CFR 1.130, 1.131 or 1.132) or other evidence are permitted. See 37 CFR 1.193(b)(2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 7, 8, 14, 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Shimamura (US 5,926,180).

Regarding claim 1, Shimamura discloses all the claimed subject matter (see the abstract, Figures 1-18). The claimed “object model” is met by the map of nodes shown in Figures 1, 4, 6, 8, 9, 12-20. The claimed “computer readable code” is met by the fact that the method of Shimamura is computerized. The claimed “subprocess for displaying a browser” is met when Shimamura shows the browsing unit (see column 2, lines 12, 13). The claimed “subprocess for retrieving...object model” reads on the fact that the method of Shimamura retrieves and displays nodes as shown in Figures 1, 4, 6, 8, 9, 12-20. The claimed “subprocess for enabling a user of said code to select one of said element” is met when Shimamura shows that the user selects a node (see column 4, lines 14-24). The claimed “subprocess for retrieving...said model” is met when Shimamura shows that the related information extracting means extracts the link information representing the relationship between the node and other nodes (see column 4, lines 37-42). The claimed “subprocess for enabling said user to select one or more relationships from said displayed relationship information” reads on the fact that the method of Shimamura allows user to navigate the map of related nodes displayed.

Regarding claim 7, Shimamura discloses the browser is a conventional browser (see column 2, lines 11-36).

Claims 8, 14 correspond respectively to a system for claims 1, 7, thus are rejected for the same reasons stated in claims 1, 7 above.

Claim 15 corresponds to a method for claim 1, thus is rejected for the same reasons stated in claim 1 above.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 3-6, 10-13, 17-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art of record does not disclose or make obvious presenting an action list to said user in response to the user selection of a relationship displayed as recited in claims 3, 9, 17.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
